Art Unit: 1742

1. The Examiner has carefully considered Applicant's Response of 10/24/02, but does not find that Applicant's Amendment and Remarks overcome the prior rejection. In particular, Applicant argues that the prior art does not teach wherein the infiltration is driven by the exothermic reaction of the aluminum with the matrix material. The Examiner maintains that Newkirk et al. '349 (349) disclose the formation of intermetallics during infiltration (see col. 8, line 38 to col. 9, line 39), and an exothermic reaction would occur when forming an aluminide, as is inherent in the reaction.

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

3. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Newkirk et al. '349 ('349).

'349 disclose the invention substantially as claimed. '349 disclose a method of forming a composite body comprising:

providing a porous compact; and infiltrating said porous compact with a molten metal by reactive infiltration, such a reaction when forming an aluminide being inherently exothermic.

'349 further disclose wherein the porous compact comprises a metal and an oxide material.

'349 further disclose wherein the oxide material comprises an aluminum oxide powder.

'349 further disclose wherein the molten metal comprises an aluminum alloy.

Art Unit: 1742

'349 further disclose wherein the reactive infiltration forms an aluminide.

However, '349 does not disclose wherein the process and composition parameters are those claimed by Applicant, but provides for close approximation and/or overlap of the claimed parameters, establishing a prima facie case of obviousness lacking a showing of unexpected results flowing from the parameter selections.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
